

建筑范例解读与分析

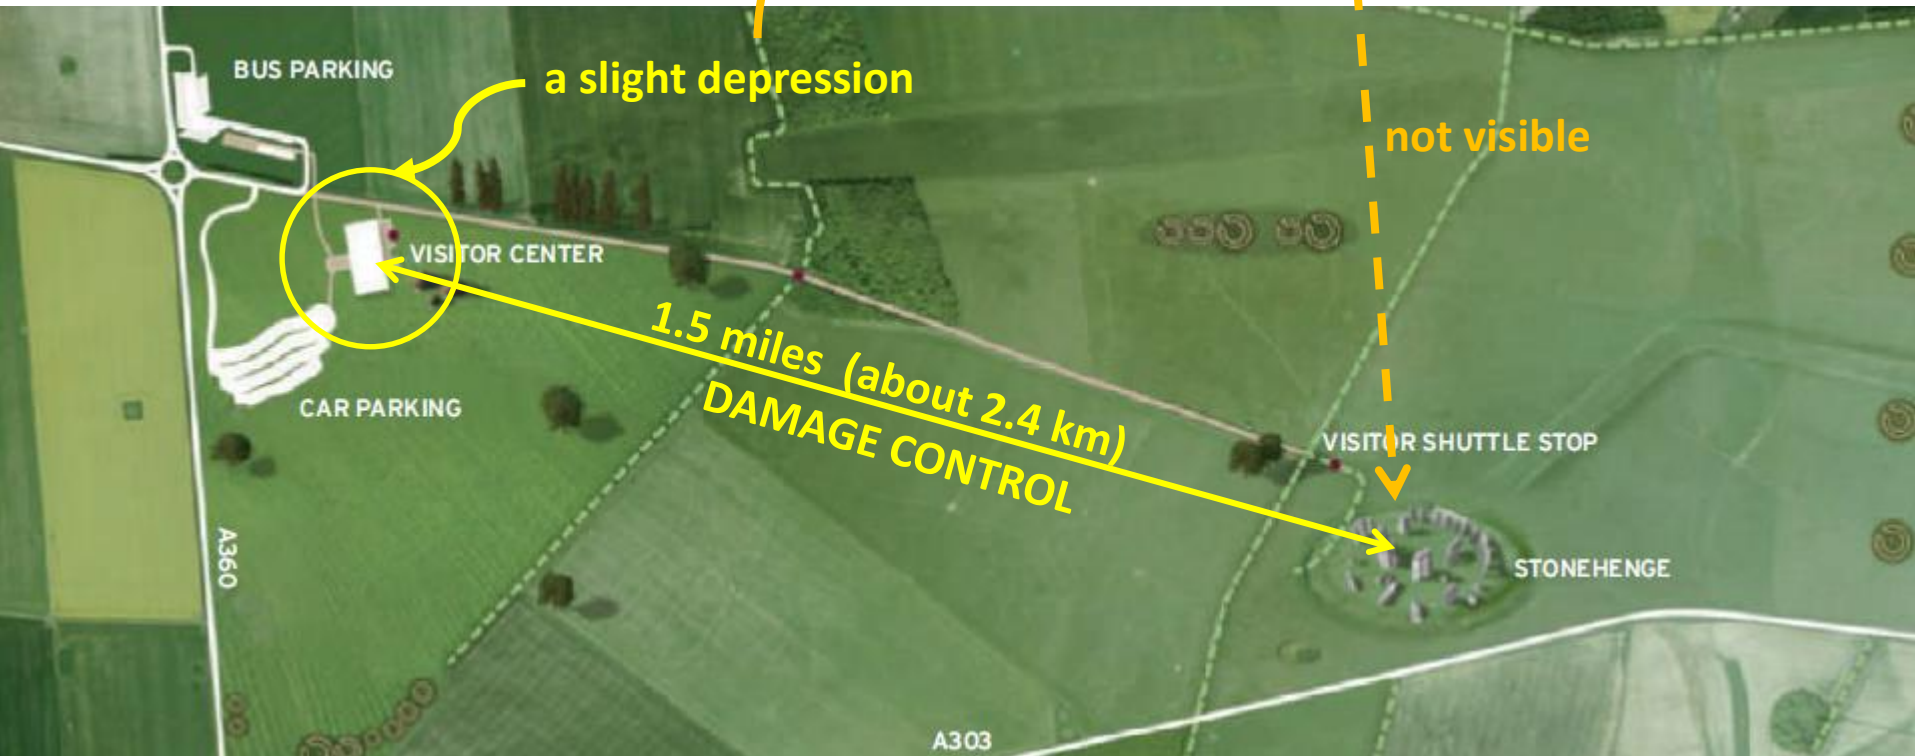

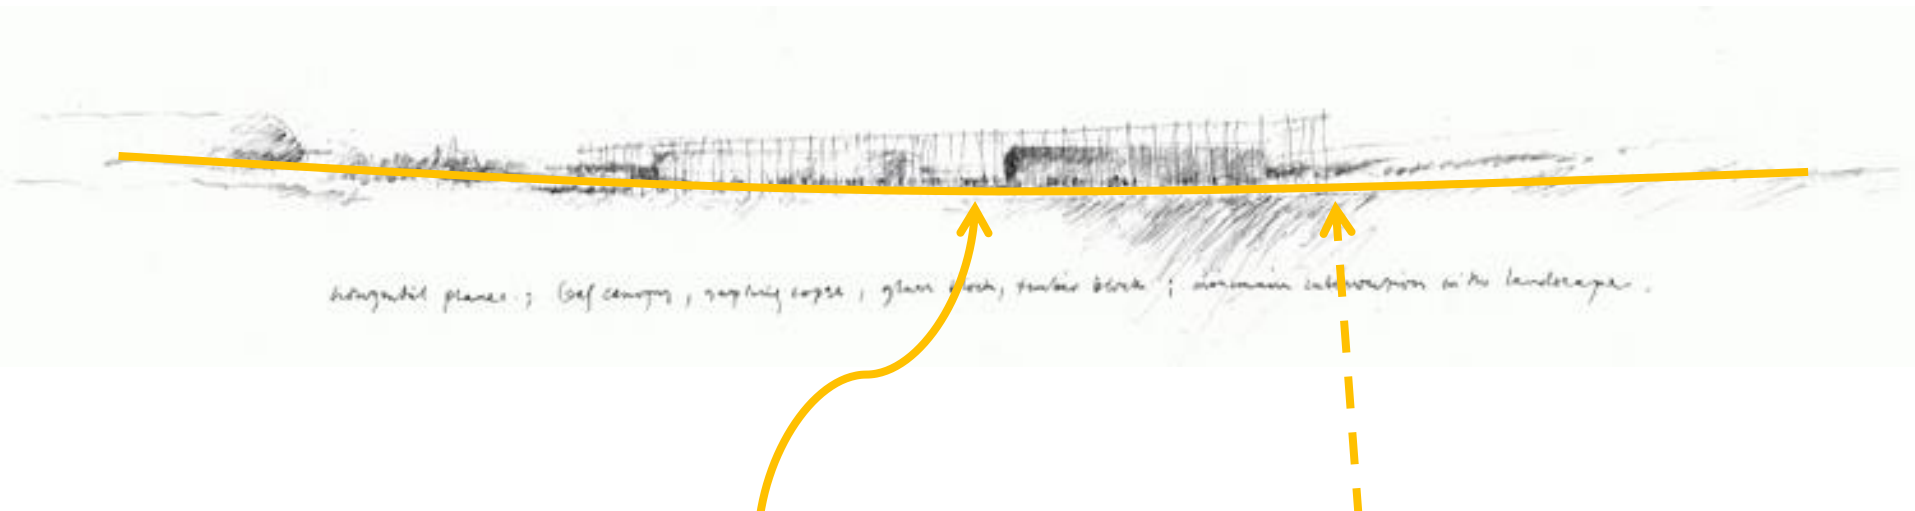

周国帆 曹宇

Stonehenge Exhibition and Visitor Centre

Location	Airman's Corner, Shrewton, Wiltshire, UK
Architects	Denton Corker Marshall
Completion Date	December 2013
Size	17,000 square feet
Client	English Heritage

sheltered, lightweight and informal exposed, massive and purposely positioned

东立面图

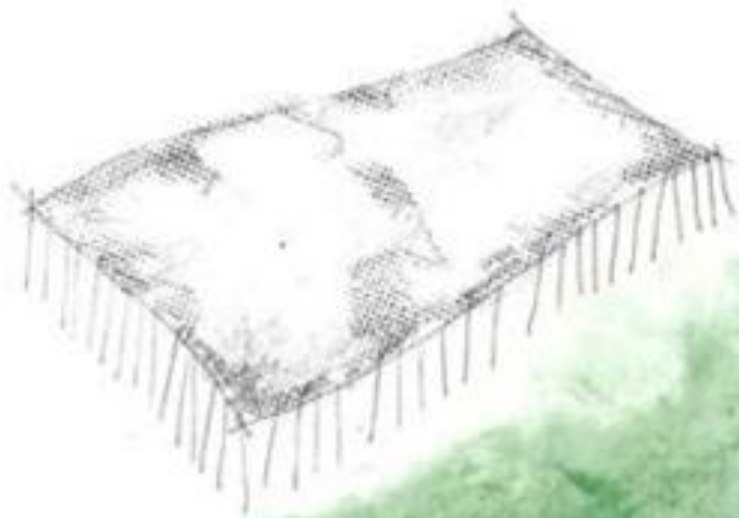

北立面图

西立面图

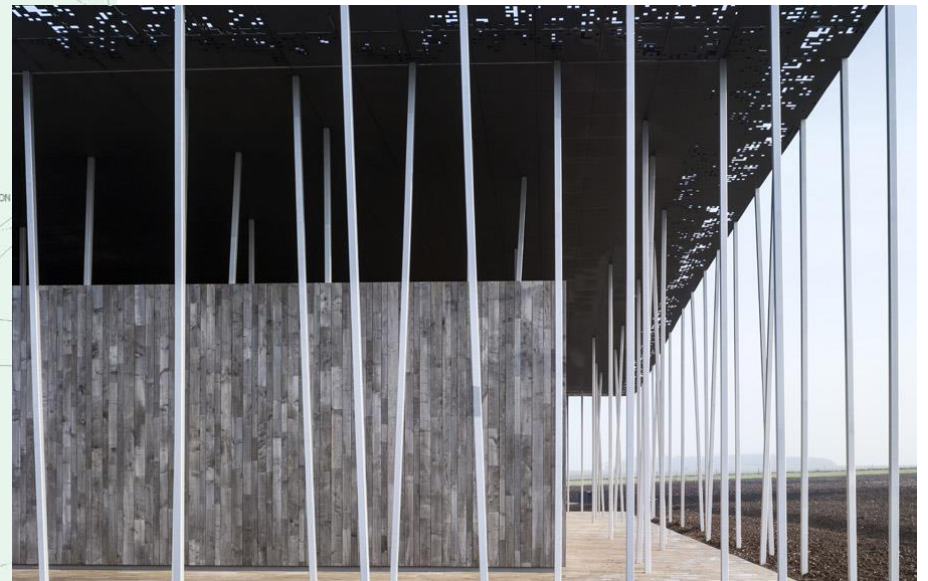

南立面图

glass blocks + timber blocks - placed beneath the canopy.

Retail

Cafe

Toilets Display

The purpose of Stonehenge is lost to us.
There will

“

“No one can imagine that such great stones have been so moved, high as they were, with such force.”

“It is not only of our own times, of years, centuries and centuries that we think,
but it is of the unknown that we think.”

“No one knows what they were or what they were doing.”

“Pile of Stonehenge! So proud to find yet keep the secrets.”

God knows what their use was!

“I would... for observing the mysteries of the heavenly bodies.”

“To all these questions beginning, ‘What?’
There is but one short answer and perfectly true and correct.”

A very Temple of the Winds

How grand! How wonderful!
How incomprehensible!

“The night almost suggests designed to accommodate could possibly

Bus Park

Stonehenge

Entrance

Car Park

参考网站与书目

- <http://www.e-architect.co.uk/england/stonehenge-visitor-facilities>
- <http://www.goood.hk/New-Stonehenge-Visitor-Centre.htm>
- http://archrecord.construction.com/projects/Building_Types_Study/Hotels/2014/1406-Stonehenge-Exhibition-And-Visitor-Centre-Denton-Corker-Marshall.asp?bts=HH
- <https://mikepitts.wordpress.com/2014/02/20/is-new-stonehenge-centre-a-disaster/>
- Macarthur, John. Architecture Australia. Jul/Aug 2014, Vol. 103 Issue 4, p20-27. 8p.
- Architectural Record. June 2014, p217-221. 5p.